Why the Rainbow?

Because God always keeps His promises...AND we're tired of the world hijacking things that belong to the Lord! We're not proud of sin; we humble ourselves to fervently seek that Lord and ask Him to remember mercy:

"LORD, I have heard of your fame; I stand in awe of your deeds, LORD. Repeat them in our day, in our time make them known; in wrath remember mercy." Habakkuk 3:2 NIV

God gave the rainbow as a sign after He destroyed the earth by a flood. He saved Noah and his family because Noah trusted and obeyed God. The rainbow is a beautiful, physical reminder of the covenant that God made with the world to never destroy the earth with a flood again. He is a righteous God, and He saves those who trust and obey Him. He always keeps His promises. Jesus is coming again, and those who trust and believe Him will see God's promise of a new heaven and a new earth where Righteousness dwells. Jesus made a New Covenant with us in His blood, and through His sacrifice we can escape the wrath and fire to come. We can freely accept His mercy and, like Noah, choose obedience and faithfulness to the Lord in a generation of wickedness.

God's promises aren't just for people in the Bible. You hold this curriculum in your hand because God is a promise-making and promise-keeping God. He is faithful, and we can trust and obey Him!

 God always keeps His promises.

BIBLE PROJECT

For the rest of this unit, instead of grammar you've learned to a final Bible project.

This year you've heard/read the Bible and learned about the power, greatness, sternness, and kindness of God. You have learned God's expectations of His people to obey and suffer when they didn't.

To end the year, you are going to make a Bible portion of a Bible Timeline you may add to it

- Please include the timeline of the Kingdom of Judah, Psalms, and Teachings of Wisdom. The power, greatness, sternness, and kindness of God.
- Please include writings from Psalms and ways to incorporate these.
- Please highlight stories that stood out to you and what someone can learn from them.
- Please choose one story to interview someone and get a direct quote from your interview in your project.
- Plan to make this several pages long. You better for your family for space/storage.
- Make this visually engaging. Be creative.

Punctuating Dialogue: There are specific rules for how to punctuate dialogue when someone is speaking. We use quotation marks to set apart the words of the speaker.

If the speaker is named before the quote, a comma goes within the quotation marks.
Example: Jesus said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

If the speaker is named after the quote, use a comma within the quotation marks.
Examples: "Love must be sincere," said Paul in his letter to the Romans. "Don't touch! It's hot!" shouted Mom.

Please add quotation marks and missing punctuation.

1. Jesus said I am the light of the world
2. Then Peter asked Lord if it is really you
3. Go and make disciples of all nations command
4. Mary exclaimed My Lord has risen
5. The angel said Do not be afraid, for I bring you good news
6. Saul shouted Who are you, Lord
7. Jesus told them Truly I tell you, today you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Father and coming with the clouds of heaven

Please write a sentence with a quote before the subject.

Please write a sentence with the speaker in the middle.

BIBLE PROJECT

For the rest of this unit, instead of grammar worksheets, you will be applying what you have learned to a final Bible project.

This year you've explored the Bible and learned about the disciplines of verse, exegesis, history, and teaching of the Bible. There are some incredible stories of faith, courage, and sacrifice in the Bible. You have learned about the experiences of the people and seen their proper when they obeyed and suffered when they didn't.

For the rest of the year, you are going to make a Bible timeline. If you have already created a journal of Bible verses, you may add to it.

- Please include the chapters of the regions of Israel and Judah.
- Please include stories from the Bible and events in your timeline. Include a creative way to represent the story.
- Please highlight stories that stood out to you. Give a summary of each story in a few sentences and what lessons are learned from it.
- Please choose one story to research and write about. Develop questions and use one or two quotes from your research in your project.
- Plan to make the central page large. You may make a timeline style if that works better for your family's space.
- Make this really engaging. Be creative, and use your imagination!

GRAMMAR PRACTICE

Penmanship Big Picture: There are specific rules for grammar to describe when someone is speaking. We can question marks to get a question and exclamation points to get a statement. We can question marks to get a question and exclamation points to get a statement.

If the question is asked before the exclamation point, a comma follows their name, and the ending question mark goes after the exclamation point.

Example: John said, "Thank you for the gift that is the rainbow of heaven!"

If the question is asked after the exclamation point, a comma, exclamation point, or question mark will follow the name.

Example: "Thank you for the gift that is the rainbow of heaven!" John said.

Theme of questions and exclamation points for the following sentences.

1. Can I call you the night of the week?
2. How many times did I tell you?
3. Do you mind if I call you?
4. They said that I had been there.
5. The judge said I was not guilty. For being your good name.
6. How should I be your love?
7. You said that I was not guilty. For being your good name.

BIBLE PROJECT

For the rest of this unit, instead of grammar worksheets, you will be applying what you learned in your Bible lessons.

This year, you'll read the Bible and learned about the kingdoms of Israel & Judah, Phoenicia, and Babylon. There are some incredible stories of faith, power, and wisdom in these books. You'll see how God's promises to the people are seen in their lives when they obey and walk with Him.

To use the year you are going to read the Bible. If you have already read a portion of the Bible, you may wish to:

- Please include the names of the Kingdoms of Israel and Judah.
- Please include at least two Phoenicians and two Babylons in your Bible. Find a creative way to represent them.
- Please highlight stories that stand out to you. Find a summary of each story in a few sentences and what lessons can be learned.
- Please discuss the story or stories in your Bible. Making questions and answers or do your own questions in your Bible.
- Please make the year engaging. You may make a calendar page that reads: "I will be reading the Bible for the year 2023."
- Make this study engaging, interactive, and fun!

GRAMMAR PRACTICE

Passing Objects: There are specific rules in grammar to show who is doing the action. The subject is the one who is doing the action. The object is the one who is being acted upon.

If the speaker is named before the quote, a comma follows their name, and a closing quotation mark goes after the quote. Make sure the quote is properly closed.

Example: "I love to read," said the boy. "I love to read." "I love to read," said the boy. "I love to read."

Read and underline the subject and object in the following sentences.

1. The cat sat on the rug.
2. The boy said "I love to read."
3. The teacher asked the students to read the book.
4. The girl was reading the book.
5. The girl said "I love to read."
6. The boy said "I love to read."
7. The girl said "I love to read."

Why the Rainbow?

Because God always keeps His promises...AND we're tired of the world hijacking things that belong to the Lord! We're not proud of sin; we humble ourselves to fervently seek that Lord and ask Him to remember mercy:

"LORD, I have heard of your fame; I stand in awe of your deeds, LORD. Repeat them in our day, in our time make them known; in wrath remember mercy." Habakkuk 3:2 NIV

God gave the rainbow as a sign after He destroyed the earth by a flood. He saved Noah and his family because Noah trusted and obeyed God. The rainbow is a beautiful, physical reminder of the covenant that God made with the world to never destroy the earth with a flood again. He is a righteous God, and He saves those who trust and obey Him. He always keeps His promises. Jesus is coming again, and those who trust and believe Him will see God's promise of a new heaven and a new earth where Righteousness dwells. Jesus made a New Covenant with us in His blood, and through His sacrifice we can escape the wrath and fire to come. We can freely accept His mercy and, like Noah, choose obedience and faithfulness to the Lord in a generation of wickedness.

God's promises aren't just for people in the Bible. You hold this curriculum in your hand because God is a promise-making and promise-keeping God. He is faithful, and we can trust and obey Him!

God always keeps His promises.

GRAMMAR PRACTICE

Forming Big Words: There are specific rules for grammar to describe when someone is speaking. We can use these rules to help us understand what we hear.

If the speaker is asked before the question, a comma follows their name, and the ending goes on the question mark.

Example: John said, "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."

If the speaker is asked after the question, use a comma, and the ending goes on the question mark.

Example: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house," John said.

Form of questions and the ending punctuation for the following sentences.

1. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."
2. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."
3. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."
4. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."
5. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."
6. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."
7. John said: "Thank you for the gift for the birthday of the house."

Please write a sentence with a question before the question.

Please write a sentence with a question in the middle of the story at a natural place.
